

RESPECT LIFE COMMITTEE

By Florence Scarinci, Committee Coordinator

A strong reminder of the sacredness and preciousness of human life came from Governor Cuomo recently: "How much is a human life worth? That is the real discussion that no one is admitting openly or freely....To me I say the cost of a human life is priceless." I hope when this pandemic passes and we can hug our friends, see their smiles on faces no longer wearing masks, worship in churches, and see our grandchildren in person and not in a zoom meeting, our legislators will hear those words and apply them to their decisions regarding the unborn and those approaching the end of their life's journey.
