A SHORT AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF MY LIFE

By Fr. Binoy

“Give thanks to the Lord, for he is good. His love endures forever.” (Ps 136:1).

Dear Friends in the Lord,

It is a pleasure for me to tell you about my life and the diocese in which I work. When writing a biography of ourselves, we realize that our life is a gift of God. I would like to narrate the story of my life in a nutshell. I am the second child among the six children of my parents. My parents are alive, but my youngest brother passed away at the age of 10 due to illness. Now I have two brothers and two sisters. My parents were laborers, and struggled to raise us, as a result. My elder sister, Mercy, is a nun. She belongs to a religious congregation named Sisters of Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament (SABS). Though I completed my 10th Grade in 1988, I couldn't continue with my studies due to compelling family problems. Like my parents, I too became a laborer. Being a laborer as a young boy was a painful experience.

One day, as I was working in a rubber shop I received a phone call from the Provincial Superior of my sister. She asked me whether I was interested in visiting Nagaland, the state where my sister has been working. Though it is 2,311 miles away from my home town, I immediately accepted the invitation, and within three days got ready for the journey. I started my journey by train on January 26, 1995. I reached Dimapur, the commercial city of Nagaland, on January 30. It was a long and tedious trip. When I arrived, I was taken to a remote parish by a nun from my sister's congregation, who introduced me to the parish priest. He asked me about my qualifications and told me to teach in a village school of the parish situated far away from the parish. I hesitated to teach in the school because I was not told about it before leaving my hometown, and, the classes were taught in English, which I was not able to speak. So, he allowed me to stay in the parish for six months to learn English, then sent me to a village called Mopong, where the school was situated.

The village school was up to 6th grade and had around 160 students. There were six villages in that neighborhood. Most of the villagers were living in extreme poverty.

Each year a number of students and people died due to malaria, jaundice, typhoid and pneumonia. There was no hospital in that area, so people depended mostly on priests and sisters for their medicine. A sister (who was also a nurse), as well as a priest, visited us once a month. They would leave us with some medicines that we would give to the people. Life was going on in this way for me. I realized in this village that there were many people who were living in very deplorable conditions. I used to think, what can I do for them? This, as well as the fear of getting sick, made me pray to God every day. One day as I was reading the Bible, Jeremiah 29:11, it struck me. "I alone know the plans I have for you, plans to bring you prosperity and not disaster, plans to bring about the future you hope for."

I never thought of becoming a priest before coming to Nagaland. The reading of Jeremiah 29:11, as well as my life in that particular village with the people, gave me a desire to become a priest and work for these brothers and sisters of mine. So, in 1996, I wrote an application to the Rector of the seminary expressing my desire to join the seminary and become a priest. I was denied entry, since the diocese had been planning to stop taking candidates from outside the state as there were sufficient local vocations. The following year, I approached once again, with the support of some priests, and finally I was granted permission to enter into seminary life. Consequently, I joined the seminary on June 13, 1997, at the age of 25. It took 13 long years for me to become a priest. I was ordained a priest on January 4, 2010, and was appointed as an Assistant Pastor in the parish where I worked as a teacher. It was a home coming experience for me. A number of times during rainy season we used to go to the villages on foot, which were 20 to 30 miles away from the parish, for Holy Eucharist. The life there was really challenging, but at the same time fulfilling. During my stay, a small village consisting of 30 families accepted the Catholic faith. After three years of living there, I was transferred to the minor seminary as Dean of Studies in 2013. I worked there for two years and was then transferred to another parish, as an Assistant Pastor in 2015. Then in 2017, I was sent to Rome for studies. In Rome, I did my Licentiate in Pastoral Theology of Human Mobility (Theology of Migration) in the Pontifical University of Urbaniana.

Last year, when my bishop visited Holy Spirit he requested Rev. Fr. Grieco accommodate me in this parish for a few months. Rev. Fr. Grieco accepted my bishop's request, and now I am here in this lovely parish. I am grateful to Rev. Fr. Grieco, and all of you, for your acceptance of me.

God Bless You All,

Fr. Binoy

Actions Have Consequences

We teach our children that their choices have consequences. Eat too much, gain weight. Don't get enough sleep, can't function the next day. Don't study, fail the test. Don't brush your teeth, get cavities. Drive over the speed limit, get an expensive ticket, maybe cause an accident. The smallest decisions and the biggest ones have ramifications. So why is it that women are told that abortion, in many cases a surgical procedure, is no big deal? It is true that some women can walk away from an abortion, put it in the past and out of their minds. But many cannot.

These women suffer the consequences of their choice: feelings of loss, emptiness, guilt, loss of self esteem for not having courage to resist pressure and stand up for beliefs, sometimes eating disorders, depression, anxiety, inability to enter into a new relationship, even thoughts of suicide. And these symptoms persist for years. These effects have been scientifically and objectively studied by several institutions among them the Elliot Institute, a non-profit organization founded in 1988 to conduct original, objective research on the impact, both psychological and physical, of abortion.

For those women suffering what has come to be called, Post Abortion Syndrome (PAS), there is hope and healing. There are several groups that offer weekend retreats, study groups, and other resources that allow them to face their choice, repent of it, and experience God's forgiveness and mercy.

If you know of anyone who is suffering, please refer them to one of the following:

Family Mass July 28

Gospel Meditation

August 4, 2019: 18th Sunday in Ordinary Time

The cake is frosted, the guests have arrived, and the gifts are piled high. One by one, the packages are opened, and one by one, the child reaches for another. Who among us hasn't seen a child who appears crestfallen when the gifts run out? Even the abundance isn't quite enough. Today's Gospel tackles a key question in the spiritual life - grateful or greedy?

"There was a rich man whose land produced a bountiful harvest." We all recognize the need to be practical. Raising a family, there's need to save for all sorts of things beyond normal day-to-day costs - medical bills, family vacations, private school, rainy day funds, retirement. Jesus doesn't critique the rich man for simply having an abundant harvest. It's his mentality. Does the rich man sell off the extra to make the needed repairs to the back fence or to invest in some additional livestock to grow the business? Perhaps donate some of the excess to the poor? No. "You have so many good things stored up for many years, rest, eat, drink, be merry!" The man wants to hoard and indulge with no concern for others.

Jesus doesn't condemn prudent saving or owning necessary items. He calls us to purify our attitudes. "Guard against all greed... one's life does not consist of possessions." We are called to be good stewards. This means being practical. It also means remaining open to God's invitation with our resources. Are we tithing to our parish? Do we give alms to the poor? Does our weekly entertainment far outstrip what we offer to others? Life is not about "stor[ing] up treasure for [our]selves." The more we grow in gratitude and generosity, the more we become "rich in what matters to God."
