Anniversary of September 11, 2001

This weekend, at all Masses, we will remember and pray for all of our heroes we lost during that tragic attack on our nation on 9-11-01. We also pray for their families, good friends, and all the loved ones left behind. We will never forget!

Additionally, we pray for all of our local first responders who were part of that sad day, specifically the New Hyde Park Fire Department, FDNY, local police and the NYPD, our EMT and paramedics, ambulance personnel and all hospital workers. We pray also for the silent heroes whom we may not be aware of, but God is!

Although this may have been the saddest day in my lifetime, I also experienced a great deal of love, compassion and generosity. The wonderful people in our great country, the greatest country in the world, put their best foot forward and responded to the needs of so many...

It's also important for me to remember, and acknowledge, how the Church was there for her people. As a priest only three months ordained, I had firsthand experience of how our Church, our people, our priests and our deacons worked tirelessly for the needs of others. Where the people were, the Church was. Seventeen of my parishioners, in my first assignment, were killed on this tragic day.

We had 17 standing room only Masses in a 1200 full capacity Church. Deer Park Avenue was closed off, and the crowds who stood outside to pray and show their respect were a quarter mile long. Dignitaries of all levels packed the Church. The people were there and cared. God was among his people.

We all have our memories of 9-11-01, and that's why we are here today. Today is a day to remember our family and friends, to pray unceasingly for them and for each other, and to trust in God. We remember our fallen heroes and pray for the safety of our Country. May God continue to bless each and every one of us and may God bless the United States of America!

Holy Days' Blessings

Why I'm grateful for Rosh Hashanah, Yom Kippur

In April, as I concluded a dozen years as archbishop, a reporter surprised me by asking an easy question: "What do you like most about New York?" He may likewise have been startled when, high on the list, I mentioned: "The friendship and cooperation of our Jewish neighbors."

Of course I listed the Yankees and the Mets, the great Italian restaurants and the Rockettes, but I prioritized my affection for the Jewish community.

Especially do I relish their holy days, and two of the most significant, Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur, are upon us. Not only do I wish God's blessings upon our Jewish community on these two occasions, but I thank them as well for the meaning and lessons these days hold for all of us.

Rosh Hashanah is, of course, the Jewish New Year. (We Catholics have our own the first Sunday of Advent.) I've always shared with my rabbi friends my envy that their new year comes as fall, school reopening, the end of summer, the conclusion of the harvest and the first Giants game all take place. How natural to celebrate a fresh start!

To be able to "begin anew" is a given in the human person, with our nature oozing resilience and our always wanting to try again. As the Bible cherished by Jews and Christians teaches, each morning the rising sun reminds us that God has not given up on us. Therefore, neither should we.

Do we ever need that renewal now! For a year-and-a-half, we've asked with the psalms of Israel, "How long, O Lord?" — as we've been scared, confused, saddened and tense over the COVID crisis. If that were not anxiety enough, we've got Afghanistan, Haiti, the border, political bitterness here at home, hurricanes and wildfires.

Shall we cower and cover up in bed each morning or take a deep breath, thank the Lord for being with us, make an act of trust and start afresh? Rosh Hashanah chooses Option 2. Thanks! We all need that.

Then the "Day of Atonement," Yom Kippur.

An abandoned beggar, rescued from the gutters of Calcutta by Mother Teresa, asked her later what she would most like to change in the world. She replied, "Myself."

Even this radiant saint admitted she needed conversion of heart, renewal, a reform of selfish, destructive tendencies in herself.

If I understand this holy day correctly, that's what our Jewish neighbors acknowledge on the "Day of Atonement." They heed the exhortation of their prophets to repent and return to God's law and covenant. That's akin to what we Christians do during Lent and, again, if my facts are straight, what the Islamic community does during Ramadan.

Once again, I sure find that sentiment refreshing. When's the last time we heard someone caught in a bad mistake or crime simply whisper, "I'm sorry! I did it! I'm at fault! I need forgiveness of God, the people I've hurt and myself"?

Instead, we usually hear blame placed on our upbringing, our culture, the wrongs of others or people out to get me. We usually preface an admission with, "Well, if I hurt anybody, I regret it." On Yom Kippur, our Jewish friends rather say, "I have hurt God, others and myself, and I'm sorry!"

As that old commercial put it, "Thanks! I needed that!"

Thank you, older brothers and sisters in faith, as Pope Francis calls the Jewish people, because this at-times discouraged neighbor and friend sure can use a fresh start; this sinner certainly needs to say, "I'm sorry!" With all the neuralgia we as Catholics have, with the horror of scandals and crisis of sexual abuse, count me among you as needing a fresh start and sincere contrition.

You may even see me sneak into the back of the temple!

Respect Life Committee

RESPECT LIFE COMMITTEE

Coordinator: Florence Scarinci

SPIRITUAL ADOPTION

If you could save a life without leaving home, without spending a penny, and taking only 15 seconds a day saying a short prayer*, would you do it? Of course you would. That is the essence of the Spiritual Adoption program. Venerable Archbishop Fulton J. Sheen created the program because he believed, as we do, that prayer has the power to change hearts and minds. In the Spiritual Adoption program, you commit to saying a short prayer* each day for nine months asking that the parents of one unborn baby, whom you do not know, and who is in danger of abortion, will accept the blessing that is a child and choose life. Because praying for someone who is named makes the prayer more personal, we ask that you choose a name for this child and mention the name in your prayers. In this life you will never know the baby you prayed for, but you can know in your heart that you have made an invaluable contribution to the protection of and respect for life.

There will be sign-up sheets at each entrance to the church next week. Anyone can participate, man, woman, child. Please take a moment to sign up. In the past over 200 parishioners participated. Let's see if we can exceed that number.

*"Jesus, Mary, and Joseph, I love you very much. I beg you to spare the life of the unborn child, (name of child), whom I have spiritually adopted and who is in danger of abortion."

The first meeting of the Respect Life Committee is Tuesday, September 14 at 7 p.m. in Martin Hall.
New members most welcome.

Reflection

Sunday, September 12, 2021

24th Sunday in Ordinary Time

(Lec. 131)

- 1) Isaiah 50:4c-9a
- 2) James 2:14-18
- 3) Mark 8:27-35

FOCUS: To be a disciple is to have faith and follow Jesus.

After Christ asks, Who do you say that I am? Peter answers, You are the Christ. Let our profession of faith be the same. And then, as James implores us, let us demonstrate that commitment to our faith by our words and actions.

LITURGY OF THE WORD

In the first reading, Isaiah declares his trust in God to uphold him. In the second reading, James explains the necessity of works to accompany and demonstrate faith. In the Gospel, Peter confesses his faith in Jesus as the Christ. Jesus predicts his passion, then explains to Peter and the disciples that they must follow him.
